Intensional Programming in Context

W. W. Wadge
Department of Computer Science, University of Victoria
Victoria, Canada
e-mail: wwadge@lucy.uvic.ca

Abstract

Intensional Programming (IP) is a very recent innovation but is based on a form of logic that is more than two thousand years old. We will give a brief history of IP and of the developments in intensional logic which made IP possible.